

The Good Gift Guide

2021/2022

CITY OF
PARRAMATTA

On these pages you'll find many gifts that give twice, or even thrice! Whether you care about protecting rainforests, disadvantaged children, or homeless puppies, you can buy beautiful gifts and make a positive difference to the world.

All of the retailers listed here actively seek to make a positive impact on a range of social, cultural or environmental issues. Through your purchase, you will be supporting innovative and inspirational projects in Australia and across the world. All this while shopping - amazing!

Click through to one of the following categories to find the perfect gift:

- Food
- Gift Hampers
- Homewares
- Kitchenware
- Kids
- Arts and Crafts
- Clothes
- Greeting Cards
- Weird and Wonderful
- One Stop Shop
- Support a Charity

Food & Drink – delicious treats that give back

Mildura Chocolate Company isn't just a purveyor of fine chocolate. It also provides employment for adults with a disability or who are experiencing disadvantage. All products are handmade using local produce. They'll even custom-make wrapping for you!

Miks Chai sells authentic chai masala that is made in Australia, ethically produced and organic, sugar free and gluten free. As a social enterprise, this business gives 50% of its profits towards supporting suicide prevention – So share a cuppa and help support others in need.

Sample Coffee This small business wants you to appreciate the different (and exceptional) coffee flavours as you would with wine, and are committed to building social and environmental outcomes along with financial success. Buy fancy coffee, coffee equipment or even a coffee subscription for your favourite coffee addict.

Eat Me Chutneys Eat me Chutneys makes delicious condiments from wonky and bruised fruit and vegetables that would normally be destined for landfill. Try their tamarind and fig "rescue" chutney, or organic cherry and clove pickle. There are gift vouchers for the indecisive.

Fingerlime Hill in NSW uses permaculture techniques to minimise impact on the environment and produce a fabulous variety of chilli sauces. Try their Dragon's Breath Honey Habanero fermented chilli sauce, Sweet Green Dream Chilli sauce or perhaps "The Hot One"... if you dare.

Food & Drink – delicious treats that give back

NUTJOB

Nutjob Bakery Sustainable desserts? Yes! Nutjob create uniquely handcrafted cakes made with organic/ sustainably farmed produce and decorated with pesticide free flowers or native wild greenery. They focus on seasonal produce, allowing the natural flavours to shine. With no refined sugar, butters or oils in the recipes, you can go back for seconds without the guilt!

kua

Kua Coffee is a Sydney-based social enterprise that reinvests 100% of profits back to the farmers in Uganda who produce the coffee. Sustainably packaged, and with a camera-swap initiative so farmers and consumers can learn about each other.

The Good Good is a social enterprise employing workers with disabilities and producing organic and premium blend teas in loose leaf, pyramid and plastic-free teabags. 50% of profits are donated to programs that help disadvantaged kids in Australia get better access to education.

SOBAH

Aboriginal owned and led, Sobah makes non-alcoholic craft beer brewed with Aussie bush tucker, to give a better choice to non-drinkers. They're breaking down the stigma of socialising sober and stereotypes about First Nations people – and your loved ones will be in love with new flavours like boab and wild ginger lager.

Gift Hampers

With gift boxes for all sorts of occasions from new baby to thanking a bridesmaid, Mettle's organic, vegan and locally sourced gifts are sure to delight. Sustainably packaged, this gift service employs women who have experienced domestic and family violence.

Curated With Conscience puts together beautiful hampers filled with products from Australian artisan businesses, design-led ethical brands, and social enterprises. You'll find everything from hampers for chocolate-lovers, barbecue-lovers and food lovers, as well as housewarming gifts, an indigenous flavour fest, and more!

Positive Feeds
SUSTAINABLE GIFTING

Stocking locally made producers with sustainable packaging, Positive Feeds gives back to local charities. Shop online or visit the store in Newport, Victoria. Choose a pre-designed gift box or create your own from the lovely range of bath, beauty, homeware, food and drink items, such as a quince, lemon and rosemary paste, or a handmade leather, timber and copper fly swat.

GG's Hampers are packed by people with special needs, and most items in these hampers come from Australian social enterprises. This Canberra-based business offers hampers that include ethical coffee, delicious chocolate, artisan crackers, and other delights. They'll even create personalised packaging for your occasion.

Aggie Global This little online gem sources all its products locally, and they want to ensure that all their Australian bushfoods come from Indigenous communities. Here you'll find Davidson plum chocolate, wild peach chutney, black garlic aioli, native food mocktails and lots more. Yum!

Homewares – beautiful things making a difference

Florapeutic sell beautiful framed pressed flower arrangements made from flowers rescued from events. Buy from their online shop, or arrange to have the fresh flowers from your own event preserved as artworks or donated to hospitals or aged care facilities.

The Bower sells a wonderful array of quality vintage and refurbished goods in its aim to keep waste out of landfill. Plus you can give the gift of knowledge with a workshop on basic pen urniture restoration, upholstery and more.

SisterWorks sells a range of beautiful homewares and food handcrafted by migrant, asylum seeker or refugee women in Melbourne, Australia. They gain financial independence by developing their entrepreneurial skills. And now in the age of Covid-19, you can donate a handmade facemask through them to vulnerable people in the community.

Blessed Earth sells clothing, manchester, rugs and carpets made from certified organically-produced materials. They even have organic cotton yoga mats and pure wool car mats! Their range now includes sustainable cookware (like low-carbon steel non-stick frypans), mosquito nets, homeopathic items, quality knives, bags, and much more.

Sampan specialises in ethical and eco-friendly gifts and homewares from South East Asia and India. All products are handmade from natural, recycled or renewable resources, right down to re-using packaging when shipping customer orders.

Homewares – beautiful things making a difference

Koskela This Sydney-based retailer creates beautiful furniture, homewares and art in partnership with Indigenous artists and designers. The lovely wares include ceramic hanging planters, hemp rugs, recycled plastic handplanes for body surfing, Australian wool hats, handwoven lamp shades from the Tjanpi Desert Weavers, and oilskin-cotton picnic blankets.

The Natural Bedding Company This little business makes solid timber bedroom furniture from sustainably managed Australian oak hardwood, and mattresses are made to order from natural fibres such as latex, organic cotton, coir and wool. Try out the Cloud 9 Mattress in their Stanmore (Sydney) showroom and you'll be in love.

Kitchenware – Practical, creative and good for the planet

BigBiteEco

Big Bite Eco is eco-ware for food lovers. Created in Sydney, the beautiful, affordable and reusable items include food storage, lunchboxes, bento boxes, drinkware, produce bags, and more. They're made from biodegradable bamboo, linen or silicone. Oh, and they sell face masks as well.

Reduce food waste, save money and use less plastic! The Swag have created a range of food storage bags made from 100% natural, unbleached, unseeded cotton.

The Swag is a natural breathable bag that helps your food stay fresher for longer. As well as their original produce bags that extend the life of your fruit and veges, the range now includes a bread bag, wine chill bags, and even a clothes swag to keep your best outfit fresh on the hanger.

#untrashy

#Untrashy have a huge range of sustainable and reusable alternatives to single-use plastic products. Everything from a personal straw pack to some brightly coloured squishy, un-smashable silicone wine glasses – you're sure to find something for everyone.

Amber's Food Wraps let you throw away your clingwrap and use non-toxic wax wraps to keep your food fresh. They are made from 100% cotton designed by traditional owners of the Northern Territory, Australia, and dipped and finished in locally sourced organic beeswax, organic resin, and organic jojoba oil.

The small Tasmanian Hobart Ironworks hand-forges knives from reclaimed carbon steel and creates handles from natural sustainable materials such as deer antlers found in Tasmanian bushland, and bamboo.

Kitchenware – Practical, creative and good for the planet

Natural Panaa have created a beautiful alternative to plastic party plates and cups with products made from the Areca leaf. Make these a talking point at your next party! Did you know these products are created from fallen Areca leaves – so no trees are harmed in the production of these products – WOW!

Kids – gifts for children with heart, inspiration and fun

For a beautiful range of timber and natural toys for children of all ages, head to Malvern (Melbourne) store Honeybee. You'll find nativity sets, music and jewellery boxes, child-sized gardening gloves, wobble boards, castles, learning sets, and even a kitchen sink.

A kids' bookshop in Western Sydney with titles in 65 languages, Lost in Books is also a café, safe space for women, creative learning centre and language exchange hub. The books cater for newborns through to young adults and grown-ups.

Green Pennies has a lovely range of toys that are educational and eco-friendly. There are toy dinosaurs made from bamboo, beautiful felt elephants, wooden shape puzzles, a seaplane made from recycled milk bottles, an indigenous bush food snap card game, and even a gnome house made from coconuts!

Grow Your Mind If a child in your life has difficulty with emotional regulation, these little gifts could be just what they (or their parents) need. From a fridge magnet that reminds children how to put their problems into perspective, to a "feelings" version of Snakes and Ladders and a breathing-style treasure wheel, this is a lovely and way fun to help.

100 Story Building produces books and a quarterly magazine edited by young people for young people. Read some crazy tales and find a whole lot of inspiration to get writing, drawing and creating.

Natural Toy Store's gifts are made from all-natural materials including natural rubber, sustainable timber, wool and organic cotton. From rubber bath toys designed to keep mould and bacteria away to DIY sewing kits for older children, these toys are both simple and delightful.

Kids – gifts for children with heart, inspiration and fun

Mama Maya's baby swaddles are made from organic cotton muslin, and each one purchased funds at least one clean birthing kit and its journey to the hands of a birth attendant in a developing country.

My Fair Baby's organic cotton clothing for children and babies is made fair trade in India. You'll love the bold patterns and bright colours for little 'uns!

Her Platform invests all profits into work that helps break the cycle of violence and de-stigmatise mental health concerns. Give the tween and teenage girl in your life a "bold and brave – like a girl!" t-shirt, or essential oils and other gifts to promote wellbeing, and you'll be helping The Centre for Women & Co in Queensland.

Slow Threads sell natural fibre toys and clothes with a yesteryear feel. There are teddies made from organic cotton and lambswool, organic boiled wool dungarees, natural rubber gumboots, and organic corduroy pinafores. The clothes are practical and beautiful, and will last and last.

Oobi sells girls', boys' and unisex clothing for children up to twelve years old. The fabrics are hand-printed by women in a collective in India, and they donate a piece of clothing to a child in need for every full-priced item sold.

Kippins wants to make sleep-time simple. Using organic cotton printed with water-based inks in cute Australian wildflower prints, these items make fantastic gifts for loved ones at home and overseas. A magical range of comforter characters will help little ones enjoy bedtime, while their beautiful kids pyjamas, rompers, cot sheets and wraps are soft and breathable for a good night's sleep.

Arts and Crafts – art changing the world

Parramatta Clay and Arts Inc. Gallery and Studio sell a range of items handmade ceramic items including bowls, platters, mugs, jugs, ornamental jewellery and Christmas decorations as well as gift vouchers for classes. Drop in to view the collection at Shop 5, 10-14 Hunter Street, Parramatta.

Injalak Arts is a non-profit Aboriginal-owned social enterprise. 200 artists and weavers from Gunbalanya and surrounding outstations produce artworks, beautiful screen-printed fabric and unique Pandanus baskets. Buying from Injalak Arts supports a 100% Aboriginal owned business and delivers positive social, economic and cultural outcomes for its members.

Find a beautiful, unique or quirky piece of art from QArt Gallery. Their gallery is full of work featuring the exceptional talents of artists with intellectual disability. Find original paintings, prints, greeting cards and art tiles.

Based in Parramatta

Social Canvas This studio in Sydney's west engages indigenous artists to produce art and artifacts, including wall art, linen tea towels and a stunning valet stand made from reclaimed timber.

Working with traditional artists from remote regions of the world (including Australia's Arnhem Land), Better World Arts sells original artworks as well as putting artists' work onto practical items such as cushion covers, bone china homewares, laptop bags, and artist-designed baby blankets.

Based in Parramatta

The City of Parramatta Art Society aims to encourage, promote and foster appreciation of arts throughout the local community. Buy artworks, or book your loved one in for a workshop or art class! Drop in to view the collection at Shop 6, 4-14 Hunter Street, Parramatta.

Clothes and Accessories – Look good. Feel good.

conscious
step®

Socks that fight poverty? Conscious Step donates a portion from every pair of socks sold to organisations that protect oceans, fight hunger, treat HIV, provide clean water, educate kids, plant trees and work to end poverty and provide disaster relief.

THE
SOCIAL OUTFIT

The Social Outfit is a fashion label with a difference. It employs and trains people from refugee and new migrant communities in clothing production, retail, design and marketing. Collaborating with fashion designers, they hand-make clothing, homewares and stationery.

the
conscious
closet

Based in Parramatta

The Conscious Closet Fast fashion is bad for the environment and your bank balance – so here you'll find some high quality, pre-loved clothes and accessories that deserve to find a second home. 100% of the profits support women experiencing disadvantage to get work, keep work and navigate their world of work.

h i l d a

Apart from selling a gorgeous collection of batik clothes and accessories from Ghana, West Africa, Hilda is an Australian brand that's providing regular employment and support to women in Ghana.

Created by Culture

Created by Culture creates sustainable and stylish jewellery made from broken glass bottles that would otherwise be in landfill. An ethical business that provides a fair wage to artisans and helps to keep traditional Ghanaian crafts and traditions alive.

Clothes and Accessories – Look good. Feel good.

THREAD HARVEST
ETHICAL FASHION

Thread Harvest is an ethical online fashion company that allows you to spend your money where you want to make the most difference. Filter first by ethical concepts such as ecofriendly or empowering women, and then select from the gorgeous range of clothes and accessories for men, women and children, including swimsuits made from recycled yarn, and organic cotton shirts.

weftshop

A registered charity and social enterprise, WEFTshop sells fair trade homewares, accessories and jewellery with the aim of ensuring artisans can build livelihoods, develop skills and train others. Find bangles made from traditional sarongs in refugee camps, appliqued bags and totes, shawls hand woven in Thailand and more.

THE VERY
GOODBRA

The Very Good Bra have solved the problem about what to do with worn-out underwear: they've made their bras and undies out of all-natural materials so they can be safely composted! No spandex, lycra or polyester in any part, including the thread, labelling and elastic!

MAGPIE GOOSE

Magpie Goose is an Aboriginal owned social impact business that partners with First Nations artists to create statement, hand screen printed and environmentally responsible clothing. You'll find clothing for the whole family here, including the dog!

REINSPIRED
THREADS

Based in Parramatta

Reinspired Threads is a second hand clothing shop selling quality garments for women, men and children at very low prices. Reduce waste by buying second hand, and feel good about supporting the Parramatta Mission's work assisting people in need with essential food.

Weird and wonderful – for the person who has everything (or is just really hard to buy for!)

Send your loved ones on a mouth-watering food adventure in Sydney! Taste Cultural Food Tours is building strong social connections and cross-cultural understanding through unique food tours. The tours also make memorable parties or office events.

Explore the beautiful parks and riverside tracks around Parramatta with Parramatta Bike Tours. You can buy gift vouchers for guided bike tours along the River or you can hire a fleet of bikes for a fun day out for the whole family.

Send someone a gorgeous flower arrangement from Angkor Flowers and you'll also be helping them to provide employment and training opportunities and financial independence for women from low-skilled migrant and refugee backgrounds in Sydney.

With the gift of a lottery ticket from yourtown (formerly BoysTown) you will support Kids Helpline and your loved one could be inviting you over for tea in their new luxury home or taking you for a drive in their prestige car.

For a really unusual present, how about a box of toilet paper? The who gives a crap rolls are made from 100% recycled paper or bamboo. They're Australian-owned, with half their profits used to build toilets in the developing world.

Designed in Bondi Beach and made in Western Sydney, the 2x quality bags are made from upcycled billboards, firehoses, banners, sail cloth and rubber. From laptop sleeves to totes and tiny "fortune cookie" bags for coins.

Weird and wonderful – for the person who has everything (or is just really hard to buy for!)

Nue Bar have a selection of PH balanced hair care bars. Everything you want from your shampoo and conditioner but without the plastic bottle. The products are palm oil free, handmade, vegan, cruelty free, contain no SLS, SLES, parabens, silicones, petroleum by-products or artificial fragrances. Now Curly Girl Method approved!

Australian Red Cross merchandise includes tea towels, festive plum puddings, pre-loved fashion, Christmas ornaments, and much more.

Sustainable Handmade Collective are an online gallery and concept store showcasing Australian sustainable and handmade design. Made from delightful upcycled vintage fabrics, you'll find you'll find kids' and women's clothing, produce and fashion bags, and other delightful items.

Sahaja Yoga Mats are made from natural tree rubber and recycled plastics to give you the sweaty grip of a towel and the support of a yoga mat. Their designs are all based on Sacred Geometry, yogic texts and life experiences, and a solar light is donated to a family in Mozambique for every mat sold.

Go Neutral for the person who really has everything except a clean conscience, the gift of carbon neutrality for their car is a practical way to introduce climate action into someone's life. It might not stop them churning through petrol, but you'll be helping to fund Australian projects that do help fight climate change.

Weird and wonderful – for the person who has everything (or is just really hard to buy for!)

Bellroy This B Corp Certified business makes accessories from sustainable leather and recycled fabrics. Their products include slimline wallets, phone and laptop cases, and a wide variety of cases for your technology.

RREPP sells sports balls made to international match standards (plus smaller balls for junior players) and under fair trade conditions. They are PVC free, which makes them better for you and the world.

Amnesty International Australia sells clothes for adults and babies, books, bags and stickers to fund their work in protecting human rights around the world. Your loved one will look great in a "Love is a human right" t-shirt, and the baby in your life will look cool protesting against anti-bikie legislation in Queensland.

One-stop shop – find all your 'Good Gifts' in one place

Flora and Fauna is an Australian online store that guarantees that all your purchases will be vegan-friendly and ethical. Look for pretty cloth nappies, stylish water bottles, mushroom elixirs, bags, clothing, eco-crayons and lots more. They also support Sea Shepherd and the Where Pigs Fly Sanctuary.

Go for Zero has a mission to help every home be toxin-free and conscious of their environmental impact. Discover fantastic Australian products which are great for you and the environment and support small Australia business. You can find some beautiful and unique gifts from bath products, perfumes, makeup, skincare, health foods and tea.

Dinidae is a dedicated marketplace for social enterprise and not-for-profits. They sell clothing, accessories, food and drink, and more. Buy headphones to support cancer research, funky socks that help fund prosthetic limbs for people in developing countries, coffee mugs that fight disadvantage in South East Asia or face masks that create jobs for people living in poverty.

Made By Many Hands is a collection of stores owned by migrant women that empowers female entrepreneurs to interact directly with their customers. Check out the paper mache skull earrings, matcha tea amaranth wafers, and brightly coloured handmade Colombian platform shoes.

One-stop shop – find all your 'Good Gifts' in one place

Spend With Us was set up to promote Australian rural and regional small businesses affected by drought, bushfire One-stop shop and COVID-19. You can buy pretty much anything here, from a hand-forged herb chopper or cocktail hamper to a handmade timber lazy susan. There are even dozens of pay-it-forward gifts where your money goes directly to an Australian in need, giving them all sorts of things including fresh eggs and gift vouchers.

Uplift Fair Trade sells products purchased directly from fair trade organisations. They have clothing, food, trinkets, homewares, toys, face masks and a wide range of Christmas decorations. They can also organise corporate gifts.

By buying from Oz Fair Trade, you are helping to improve the lives of many women and their families who live in extreme poverty. Full profits go back to purchasing more fair trade products. Find spoons and jewellery made from bombshells, super soft t-shirts, cards, cushion covers, bags, slippers, and lots more.

Ethical Living

Ethical Living specialises in ethically made and fair trade goods. There's a huge range of products including clothing and shoes for adults and children, toys, home décor and plastic-free living tools, skincare and lots more. Check out their sweet children's dresses and the cute cloth bunting.

Change Merchants source beautiful, fair trade products from all over the world. Fabulous cotton "pumjammies" (pyjamas or pants!) for men and women, sustainable leather passport covers, jewellery made from bomb casings, tooth fairy pillows, cufflinks and other cool stuff.

One-stop shop – find all your 'Good Gifts' in one place

biome

Biome sells everything you need for an eco-lifestyle: bags, skincare, educational toys, home décor, natural makeup, natural deodorant, crayon rocks made from soy wax, lunch boxes, sustainable clothing, cookware, Manchester and lots more. Online or in store (Queensland only).

Upcycle Studio sells a gorgeous and eclectic range of gifts made from upcycled materials. Check out their bags and accessories made from sail cloth, fire hoses and billboards, sustainable lunch boxes and water bottles, and more. Shop online or in St Peters (Sydney).

Eco at Home sells all sorts of everyday but beautiful essentials including baby olive oil soap, books on eco living, natural house paint (which actually has a pleasant smell), children's gardening tools and gifts. Available online or in their Willoughby (Sydney) store.

Fair Go Trading is a Perth (Australia) based retailer of fair-trade and organic goodies. Go retro with their beautiful hand-painted cake tins. Get stylish with their artisan bags. Treat your flowers with a hand-painted and upcycled watering can. Or browse the wide range of hemp bags, puppets, jewellery and more.

Avenue

Shop Avenue features products from a range of ethical brands, as well as brands created by in-house Avenue Entrepreneurs. Purchasing from Shop Avenue supports people with a disability to work and develop their individual skills regardless of their support needs.

Support a Charity – give a gift where it's really needed

Choose from The Australian Red Cross's three donation gift cards, including the $50 Gift of Connection, which provides a weekly phone call to an isolated, older person.

Care Australia offers a great range, from $10 drought resistant seeds to $665 to provide a community watering pond for crops. Care Australia is a non-government and non-religious charity.

Give a gift that celebrates and protects animals with Humane Society. You can help protect India's elephants, rescue dogs, protect whales and dolphins, and more.

With Muslim Aid you can give personal or business Zakah, pay Fedyah or cleanse your income received from interest. You can choose how the money is spent, such as for sustainable development, orphan aid, health and education.

Parramatta Mission Buy a loved one a virtual gift card from Parramatta Mission and you can help support the Festival of Christmas giving gifts and support to people in need.

The Smith Family Give a gift that puts a Christmas present under the tree for a disadvantaged child who might otherwise go without. You can also support disadvantaged kids' literacy and numeracy, provide a mentor for an Indigenous child, and lots more.

Support a Charity – give a gift where it's really needed

Bush Heritage Australia Give a Bush Gift Card to support the conservation of magnificent Australian landscapes and irreplaceable native species.

Oxfam Unwrapped offers a massive range of cheesy gifts for people who already have everything they need. "This gift might be crappy" says the card with a gift of a faecal sludge plant.

Rainforest Rescue's gift cards include a cassowary care package, tree planting in the rainforest and buying back the rainforest to protect it forever (every $10 protects 2-square metres).

RSPCA has five gift cards representing the five freedoms for animals, including freedom from hunger and thirst, freedom from fear and distress, and freedom to express normal behaviour. A lovely set of gifts for the animal-lover.

With Simply Giving, you choose a Christmas present for a disadvantaged Australian child through Barnardos, Anglicare, The Children's Hospital at Westmead, The Smith Family and more – and you get a certificate, gift card or origami for your tree.

This is where the concept of giving to people who need it most actually started. Tear Australia is a Christian group helping the world's poor. Gifts are priced from $5 (for chickens) to $5,000 (to help a community transform their village). There are even some mini-cardboard constructions instead of cards for crafty recipients.

Support a Charity – give a gift where it's really needed

Unicef allows you to buy a range of gifts helping with education, clean water, nutrition, maternal health and more. For just $55 you can provide 155 tuberculosis vaccines. For kids up to ten, Paddington's Postcards is a year-long subscription that will provide personalised postcards, stickers, maps and more to teach your kids about children and families around the world.

Help conserve endangered animals such as tigers, orangutans and pygmy elephants by "adopting" an animal through WWF, and your loved one will receive an adoption certificate, sticker, factbook and other goodies, including optional soft toy.

GiveNow is an Australian online donations platform that connects you to the causes you and your loved ones care about. You can donate money on someone's behalf or find other creative ways to give, like donating stamps to help a charity reach a bigger audience.

Children's Medical Research Institute sells Jeans for Genes branded apparel, as well as lab coats and science kits for the budding child scientist. Money goes to research into children's genetic diseases.

Leprosy Mission this Christian charity seeks to defeat leprosy and transform lives. They raise money selling "gifts of love" such as goats, school kits and toilets for people who need them, as well as fashion, homewares, stationery and more for someone who prefers something to unwrap.

Greeting cards – send a message and help others

Noteworthy CARDS

Noteworthy Cards Find some beautiful, funny, weird and wonderful greeting cards made from recycled materials and produced carbon neutral. 100% of profits towards life-changing gifts that support community, education, food and livelihoods, good health, safe water and sanitation for people suffering in poverty.

Words With Heart
STATIONERY | PRINT | DESIGN

Words With Heart combines environmentally responsible production, funding for women's and girls' education projects, and words that empower. With your artwork they'll make anything from business cards and stickers to posters and notepads, and they'll use the profits to pay for education for women and girls in the developing world.

earth
greetings
100% earth friendly

For beautiful Australian-made cards printed on 100% post-consumer waste recycled paper, head to Earth Greetings. They have cards for a wide range of occasions, and also sell wrapping paper, gift tags, bookmarks, and calendars. 10% of their profits are donated to environmental organisations.

rosie lou

Rosie Lou's Australian designed and made cards are beautiful and quirky, like the play-on-words "I love you from my head tomatoes" card, printed with vegetable ink on recycled paper. There are also gift packs of seeds, wrapping paper, notebooks and some textile items as well.

charitycardmarket

Customise your gift cards with Charity Card Market, a company that donates 20% of the takings to your chosen charity (over seventy to choose from!), prints the cards on eco-friendly paper and uses soy-based inks. You can even upload your own image.

notely

Notely sells beautiful notebooks printed with sustainable ink onto FSC certified paper, and with 100% post consumer waste recycled, carbon neutral paper on the inside. Planet friendly, attractive AND supporting real artists.

CITY OF PARRAMATTA